

last updated: January 12, 2018

At this moment, I am preparing the third printing of my “Introduction to the Theory of Econometrics”.

In addition, it looks more and more likely that there will be a third edition of my 1988 “Matrix Differential Calculus” (with Heinz Neudecker, now deceased), both as a book and as an e-book. I will be working on this in the Spring of 2018 following my trip to Japan, and hopefully it will come out in time for you to give as a present under the Christmas tree.